This variant of our Adi Kailash & Om Parvat Yatra starts and ends at Kathgodam railway station, making it the easiest option if you are travelling from Delhi, Lucknow, or anywhere on the rail network. Overnight trains reach Kathgodam early morning and our vehicle leaves directly from the station.

The high-altitude core of the yatra is identical to our flagship itinerary: a full acclimatisation day at Gunji (3,200 m), darshan of Adi Kailash at Jolingkong (4,572 m), and the ॐ face of Om Parvat from Nabhidhang (4,340 m). The region requires an Inner Line Permit, and our team handles the process for every yatri.

We are a private tour operator based in Pithoragarh, run by Uttarakhand locals — the Vyas Valley routes are home ground for our drivers and escorts.

Day-wise itinerary

1 Kathgodam → Dharchula

915 m

Morning pickup from Kathgodam railway station and a full day's scenic drive via Almora and Pithoragarh to Dharchula on the Kali river. Evening briefing and permit document check. Overnight stay.

2 Dharchula → Gunji

3,200 m

Climb into the high Vyas Valley through Tawaghat and Lakhanpur, with permit checks en route. Reach Gunji, our base for the darshan days, by afternoon. Short acclimatisation walk in the evening.

3 Acclimatisation at Gunji + Kalapani Kali temple

3,600 m

A deliberate acclimatisation day at Gunji. Visit the Kali temple at Kalapani, the source of the Kali river. Light walking only, preparing the body for the high darshan days ahead.

4 Gunji → Jolingkong — Adi Kailash darshan → Gunji

4,572 m

Drive to Jolingkong for darshan of Adi Kailash (Chhota Kailash), the Shiva temple, and Parvati Sarovar at its base. Return to Gunji by evening.

5 Gunji → Nabhidhang — Om Parvat darshan → Gunji

4,340 m

Drive to Nabhidhang to see the natural ॐ formation in snow on Om Parvat. Time for darshan and photographs before returning to Gunji.

6 Gunji → Dharchula

915 m

Descend from the Vyas Valley back to Dharchula. Evening at leisure by the Kali river.

7 Dharchula → Kathgodam — yatra concludes

554 m

Full day's return drive to Kathgodam, arriving by evening for onward trains. The yatra concludes with darshan complete and memories for a lifetime.

Frequently asked questions

Which trains work best for the Kathgodam start?

Overnight trains from Delhi (such as the Ranikhet Express) reach Kathgodam early morning, and our vehicle leaves directly from the station — you lose no day to the connection. We confirm your train timing on WhatsApp before departure.

Is the Inner Line Permit included?

Yes — fees and the full application are included. Share your Aadhaar, photos, and medical fitness certificate on WhatsApp 2-3 weeks ahead and our team handles the rest.

Does this route include the acclimatisation day?

Yes. Day 3 is a full acclimatisation day at Gunji with the Kalapani Kali temple visit — the same safety-first structure as our flagship route. We do not sell a version without it.

What vehicle is used?

Sumo or Tempo Traveller from Kathgodam to Dharchula depending on group size, then 4x4s suited to the Vyas Valley roads for the high sections.

Can senior citizens do this yatra?

Seniors regularly complete it. We ask every yatri for a medical fitness certificate, carry a pulse oximeter with the escort, and recommend travellers above 65 get a specific altitude go-ahead from their doctor before booking.
